

Eberlasting Love

By
G. Blackburn

There is a love in my heart that grows more everyday
it is Searching for you to help me find my way.

I have become obsessed with this loneliness.
There is so much more I wish to express.

Memories and images are no longer enough
To remind me of what we shared and loved,
Together in the world with which we were blessed.

Now we must continue toward our next happiness.

Katherine you're the only soul in my life
That has shared my deepest love as friend and wife.

Like two stars in the sky that spin and dance
Till they collapse together hand in hand.

Darling I feel your soul right here with me,
Because we are one and will always be,
Soulmates, partners, husband and wife,
A team that shares an eternal life.
